

Request for DCC Service Agreement

Thank you for your interest in the Vanderbilt Data Coordinating Core. If you are interested in a service contract, please complete the survey below.

Our team will use your information to fill in the contract that will be sent via DocuSign, after which it will be reviewed and approved by the Core Director. We will send the contract first to you for signature and then to Vanderbilt's Office of Research for final signature and approval. Please note that our agreement can't be changed or altered.

Our current fee schedule can be downloaded here for reference.

Project Information

The below project information is for Service Agreement purposes only. No projects will be created in REDCap until your Service Agreement has been finalized. When your Service Agreement is finalized, you will receive instructions regarding project creation.

A REDCap Project is defined as a webpage or series of webpages used for data entry, identified by a unique Project ID. The Project ID is assigned to the REDCap Project when it is created and cannot be pre-defined or changed. The Project ID is shown only in the URL bar of any webpage in the REDCap Project. The Project Representative can choose a title for their REDCap Project, which is automatically linked to the Project ID; though the Project Representative can choose to change the title of the REDCap Project at any time, the REDCap Project's Project ID will never change. REDCap Projects are opened through their project titles, which are listed on the "My Projects" tab in REDCap. The tab view is customizable by each user, so project titles may be listed on the "My Projects" tab multiple times if assigned to multiple folders.

Each REDCap project is separately billable. If you have any questions, please email the Data Core HelpDesk at datacore@vumc.org.

How many REDCap projects do you anticipate having?
This is strictly for planning purposes on our side. This doesn't have to be an exact number. You will see this number referenced in the DocuSign Agreement for an anticipation of your monthly bill.

Our standard agreement term is for 3 years initially. You would then have options to extend with up to two-year amendments in 1-year increments. This would result in five years of coverage until a brand-new agreement is needed.

We will also need to reserve the right to request new agreements if the institution changes our standard terms and conditions via a new research core service agreement template.

Is this timeline fine for your organization, or do you need a shorter timeline?
